

As independent contractors, real estate agents typically purchase health care on the open market, which can be expensive. According to several National Association of Realtors surveys, 28-33% of agents are uninsured in any given year. Finding affordable health care can be a challenge that detracts from agents' peace of mind and growing their business.

At eXp Commercial, we're proud to offer eXp Agent Healthcare, which provides eXp Commercial agents with innovative and low-cost healthcare choices. At eXp, we are focused on our agents' success, and providing access to the best possible health care aligns with our strategy to prioritize our agents.
